Brownfield Regeneration as a Driver for Sustainable Spatial Development in Europe
29/30th September, 2009
Centre for Urban Policy Studies, University of Manchester, UK
Chair – Professor Paul Syms
Location – Room G.035/G.036, Arthur Lewis Building, University of Manchester, UK

Agenda

Tuesday 29th September 2009

12noon Arrival and lunch (lunch to be held in the foyer of Humanities Bridgeford Street which is opposite the Arthur Lewis Building - see building 35 on the campus map)

1.15pm Welcome (room G.035/.036, Arthur Lewis Building – building 36 on the campus map)
   Professor Cecilia Wong, Director CUPS

1.30pm Overview of the UK policy context
   Speaker to be confirmed

2.00 pm Threat or/and opportunity? Brownfields and urban regeneration in the Czech Republic
   Dr Luděk Sýkora, Department of Social Geography & Regional Development, Charles University, Prague

2.30pm Urban Regeneration Policies: the German Perspective?
   Stefan Fina, Institute of Regional Development Planning, University of Stuttgart
   Professor Stefan Siedentop, Institute of Regional Development Planning, University of Stuttgart

3pm Coffee

3.30pm National and local policies for urban regeneration and sustainable development: Case studies and experiences in Italy
   Stefania Tonin & Francesco Musco, Faculty of Urban & Regional Planning, University Iuav of Venice
4pm Brownfield development in Spain
Dr Malcolm Burns, Centre of Land Policy and Evaluations, Technical University of Barcelona

4-30pm Emerging Results – Social Impacts Research
Dr Andreas Schulze-Bäing and Jennifer Hall (CUPS)

4.50pm Brief discussion of issues arising from the presentations

5.30 Close

7pm CUPS hosted dinner, Tai Pan, Upper Brook Street, Manchester

Wednesday 30th September 2009 - Room G.035/.036, Arthur Lewis Building

9.15am ESPON update and overview
Dr Andreas Schulze-Bäing

9.45am to 11am Roundtable discussion

11am Coffee

11.30am – 1pm Determining the future research agenda

1pm Workshop close and lunch (Humanities Bridgeford Street foyer)